COMPANY DESCRIPTION:

The Trip is an extremely user friendly board that is designed with the rider in mind. It's going to be a fun ride for any type of rider, from beginner to advanced. Drew Brophy has once again provided the graphics for this epic series, pick one up today and take the Trip of your life... The Trip's aggressive continuous rocker allows the board to have smooth, fluid curves with a high arcing pop. The Trip also features a variable edge rail with a D-I-S-C (double inside single concave) hull through the center of the board that softens the landings and helps to maintain board speed. The variable edge rail is made up of a rounded rail in the center for a forgiving feel and a sharp rail at the tail for edge control and response. Its modern bat tail is fuller than the original for more lift off the tail of the board and the tips have been tucked in for quick transitions.

The 2011 Index Binding provides a stable platform for beginners and intermediates to use to progress. The Index continues to set the standard for entry level comfort and fit. Easy to use and packed with features found on high end bindings, the 2011 Index is the perfect value setup for the entire family to share.
